

Meghan Lavine

Associate

Meghan Lavine, Esq. is an associate at SilvermanAcampora LLP, where the focus of her practice is in general commercial litigation.

Meghan received a Bachelor of Arts degree from The George Washington University in 2004 and went on to study at the Hofstra University School of Law where she received a Juris Doctor in 2009. While in law school Meghan participated in the Asylum Clinic and represented Hofstra University on their International Moot Arbitration Team and on their inaugural team in the American Bar Association's National Appellate Advocacy Competition.

After law school, Meghan was proud to serve as an Assistant District Attorney in Nassau County for more than six years. In that time, she practiced in the County Court Trial Bureau and the Economic Crimes Bureau. In 2016 Meghan joined the chambers of a New York City Civil Court Judge in Queens County as the Judge's Court Attorney and subsequently served as the jurist's Principal Law Clerk upon her election as a Justice of the Supreme Court, Queens County.

Meghan is honored to be a member of the Board of Directors for the Head Start Program located at the Glen Cove Child Daycare Center, Inc. and a Trustee on the Board of Education for the Glen Cove City School District.
